On September 11, 2001, the United States suffered one of the worst tragedies in its history. Thousands were killed when al-Qaeda terrorists flew hijacked airplanes into the Pentagon and New York City’s World Trade Center, while forty three died when hijacked Flight 93 crashed in a Somerset County, Pennsylvania field when hostages attempted to regain control of the plane. It was a horrific tragedy and led to the U.S. invasion of Afghanistan, where al-Qaeda trained for terror.

To honor those who gave their lives, we now recognize September 11th as a National Day of Remembrance and Service.

During this anniversary, we are encouraged to embrace our civic responsibilities and contribute to the common good of our neighborhoods and communities. Volunteering in the community is one important way in which people can strengthen the common good and our common bonds as participants in our civic community. When we volunteer, whether giving our time to work at a homeless shelter, tutor children, or even something as simple as mowing a neighbor’s yard, we work to improve our communities and remember those who have given so much to this nation.

The National Day of Service and Remembrance is an opportunity to come together as neighbors, friends, family, and citizens. On this day, we pause and reflect on the importance of sacrifice, our shared connections and how we can, ultimately, make our communities a better place for all.

---

To Think and To Do: What are some of the ways in which you can volunteer in your community or even from your own home? Identify an organization that interests you and find ways in which you can take part in the National Day of Service and Remembrance!

---

Learn MORE about 9/11 and engaged citizenship.
Free registration may be required.
- The 9/11 Memorial and Museum, from 9/11 Memorial and Museum
- A Guide to Honoring 9/11 in your Community, from 9/11 Memorial and Museum
- Citizenship Obligations and Responsibilities, from Civics360