

I Have, Who Has KEY

Who has...a principle of government that allows each branch of government to limit the power of the other branches

I have...checks and balances

Who has...the idea that government gains its power/authority from the people

I have...consent of the governed

Who has...a form of government in power is held by the people and each individual person makes decisions

I have...democracy

Who has...the right of people accused of crimes to have laws that treat them fairly so they cannot lose their life or freedom without having their legal rights protected

I have...due process of law

Who has...a system of government in which power is divided and shared between national, state, and local governments

I have...federalism

Who has...rights guaranteed or belonging to a person

I have...individual rights

Who has...a government that has been limited in power, such as by a constitution or written agreement

I have...limited government

Who has...a type of government that allows people to vote and elect government officials to represent their beliefs and make decisions on their behalf

I have...representative government

Who has...the political belief that the best form of government is one where citizens choose their representatives and actively participate in civic life

I have...republicanism

Who has...those who govern must follow the laws; no one is above the law

I have...rule of law

Who has...a structure of government that sets up different branches with their own distinct powers and responsibilities

I have...separation of powers