

Florida Social Studies Summit

Navigating Challenges and Seizing Opportunities

Friday, September 13, 5:00pm-9:00pm &
Saturday, September 14, 7:30am-4:30pm

The Jack Miller Center, Lou Frey Institute, and Sphere Education Initiatives will feature constitutional and pedagogy scholars who will discuss elections, race, civil rights, and the instructional methods of addressing these topics with students.

This two day program is for social studies supervisors, school level administration, and classroom teachers. The program will be held at the University of Central Florida's College of Community Innovation and Education's Morgridge Reading Center and Teaching Academy.

Invitees will receive free books and materials, as well as a $200.00 stipend.
